I want to thank Dr. Cooperman for accepting medicare, so I was able to have my eye implants. I had one done six days ago and now I'm having the second operation a week later. I had cataract surgery done ten years ago. I have been waiting ten years to have eye implants. Dr. Cooperman and his staff have a well organized system, they were very courteous, and efficient. I also want to thank you for the transportation of picking me up and returning me home on the day of surgery. Thank you for allowing me not to have to wear contact lens. In the period of the ten year period I have lost many lens, and had a number of infections.

Sincerely yours
William Sasser

Dear Dr. Cooperman,

When I finally decided to have my eyes operated upon, the only decision was finding a physician that I would feel comfortable with and also someone I could trust. Well, from my first visit it was certainly everything I expected. Your temperament and pleasant attitude put me completely at ease and I felt so confident in your care.

Your unselfish attitude of accepting Medicare assignments as payment is truly a Godsend to the elderly senior citizens of this community. Because of the high costs of good medical care, most of my peers just decide to not have the attention and care they need.

I am now and forever will be eternally grateful for the excellence of your care and concern for me. Please accept this letter as an expression of my sincere gratitude and heartfelt thanks for someone as gracious and kind as yourself.

Sincerely, thanking you,
Anderson E. Smith

Dear Mr. Cooperman —

This is the only way I know how to thank you not only for the miracle you have given me but also for all the love and care by giving my wife a pain, so love me it is my duty and I want to have the one doctor in the state who not only can do what people but who is so willing to help them and believe me you are so badly needed. It is also pretty special the way you make every patient that has the very important to you because you let Just a few more people and dignity and pride in ourselves and short lines to bring you do not treat us as just doc, doc, # A special thanks to number one chart, for everything!

I hope you are in good luck I have a few things I am going to tell everyone I can about you and what we all the love has said I will, I know my own family are going to be seeing you very soon and I would also like to thank you in the hospital and to see you and your

Love,

Dear Steve:

I don't want this to sound like melodramatic claptrap, but I had to communicate what happened to me this evening while sitting at my desk.

This afternoon I picked up my glasses with the new prescription you gave and low and behold, I could actually see the face of the pretty young lady that was assisting me!

When I got home late this evening, I sat down to read my correspondence and after about two hours of this and other work, I realized that I was actually crying! When I stopped to analyze what was going on, I realized that I was able to read (my favorite occupation) without any difficulty...as a matter of fact with ease, relaxed and not tired from the effort.

This last year and one-half was pure Hell for me...I just didn't realize how difficult it had been. My tears were tears of joy and I felt that I had to share them with you.

Thank you!

Vaya con Dios,

Michael E. Kimmel

P.S. I have not cried in twenty years!

Dear Dr. Cooperman:

Just a brief note to express my gratitude for the wonderful care you have given me and a short progress report.

My left eye, which you rescued from probable blindness by removal of the previously implanted (by another surgeon) and defective lens and the re-introduction of a lens of your own preference has resulted in a complete elimination of the inflammatory reaction and diminishing sight problems that I had been encountering. I am now symptom-free, off ophthalmic medications, have had my drivers license renewed for another four years and only wish to God I had gone to you in the first place!

In closing I would like to thank you also for your kindness, your consideration for one's economic welfare and for the wonderful skills that you offer, accordingly, to so many. You are a true credit to the profession of medicine.

May this and other years bring you the success that you so richly deserve.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Cooperman

My gratitude for this opportunity to express my appreciation to you and your staff of assistants for the services you gave me in gaining the sight of my right eye again.

The deep feeling and concern you conveyed to me gave me great confidence in your skills and claims. Everything went well in your procedure from the operation itself, as well as the follow-thru. May your success continue. Again, I thank you.

Sincerely,

Edmund Bittke

Dear Steve,

you will be so missed!

I think all of your patients would join me in saying you are not just a superb ophthalmologist
but such a kind, caring, compassionate human being.

Please know that I wish you all the good luck you so richly deserve.

affectionately,

Dear Dr. Cooperman:

I am very sad you are not coming back to your office. For fifteen years you took good care of both of us, and became our friend.

I want to express my gratitude for everything you have done for us. It would make me very happy to hear from you. My best wishes for your health go with this letter. Greetings and love for you and your family, Rosa Brown.

Dear Mr. Steven Cooperman:
In the past 15 years I have been to many ophthalmologists recommended to me by co-workers.
"Nothing can be done!" was the one theme they all sang. I gave up even being able to see with that right eye.

Then I got lucky. I met Steven G. Cooperman. He said "let's get the cataract off first, and then we'll see what can be done." Well, that did it! That eye is now terrific.
Subsequently, Mr. Cooperman removed the cataract from the left eye
and all I can now say is —

The trouble with my eyes became more intense when I reached my sixtieth and seventieth birthdays. This time, not only the headache to contend with, but also with dizziness and vomiting. The last eye doctor I went to for relief told I had cataract on my right eye but it was not ripe yet and ready for operation. I told him to come back the following year.

As I am among the many senior citizens living on welfare and cannot afford the operation and hospitalization expenses, I contented myself with praying to Almighty God to help me find a solution to my problem. One night in January of this year, while I was watching

T.V., I saw and heard a man raising to high heaven our Bill. Steven G. Cooperman had helped many with their eye problems. The following morning as I was ~~near~~ managing the newspaper night home by my door-in-in, I happened to get hold of the California Examiner and our half page write up about Dr. Cooperman and his Cooperman Eye Center at Beverly Hills. Immediately I called the clinic and set up an appointment for my eye examination by the doctor. When the appointed date arrived I was ushered in by the lady clerk to a room where I met a very courteous and amiable man. He examined my eyes thoroughly and told me that my right on Feb. 18 and the left eye on Feb. 25 - ~~in~~ two days after my 77th birthday.

 I felt no pain during and after operation. No side effects were felt during
 post operative treatment
 as well as during the removal of the stitches on the operated eyes. Now 2 months I can read printed materials and write again
 to relatives and friends.
 At last I can say I have conquered my cataract.

I attribute this, first to Almighty God, and second to Dr. Steven G. Cooperman.
 Congratulations Dr. Cooperman
 for a job well done Thank you.
